THE NOVEMBER 15, 2000 PUBLIC WORKSHOP ON DEVELOPING SAFE HARBOR NUMBERS

On November 15, 2000, the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) held a public workshop to solicit input on the proposed process for developing safe harbor numbers. The workshop was well attended and several written and oral comments were received. OEHHA considered all comments and prepared a document that summarizes the issues raised and discusses OEHHA's responses. Many of the comments received were reflected as changes in the "Process for Developing Safe Harbor Numbers" document and the "Proposition 65 Status Report on No Significant Risk Levels for Carcinogens and Maximum Allowable Daily Levels for Chemicals Causing Reproductive Toxicity." OEHHA hereby announces the availability of these three documents; the summary of issues raised and discussions, the process document, and the status report. Copies of the documents are available from the OEHHA Web site at www.oehha.ca.gov or from the Proposition 65 Implementation office at P.O. Box 4010, Sacramento, California 95812-4010 or by calling (916) 445-6900.

Questions concerning this notice may be directed to Ms. Cynthia Oshita at (916) 445-6900.
